1825 Census of Randolph Co. Ill. :-

Jacob Bowerman- 2 heads of the household
1 male under 21 yrs.
2 females.

1850 Census of Randolph Co., Ill....Eve lived with her dau. Elizabeth Robinsin and family listed as age 86 years born Maryland.

Also listed with them was a Jacob C. Bowerman age 31 b Ill. and we find bur. Bowerman Cemetery:

George E. Bowerman, son of J. . and L.E. b 11-1-1854 d 9-10-1855.

(NOTE:-This Jacob C. was probably not a son of Jacob and Eve, since Eve would have been 55 yrs. old when he was born, if he was..... Could he have been one of the older sons of Jesse & his wf., Margaret, who were born before 1825 census was taken?...T.B.C.)

Their children were: Jonathan b c. 1793 (c. stands for census & ca.)
Jessee b 1795 (indicates around, or circa.)
Susanna b 1797
Michael b c. 1799
Elizabeth b c. 1800
Mary b c. 1802
William b c. 1803
Eve b c. 1807

He was quite an illustrious and capable man according to the references which follow:

p.71 "The number of new settlers in 1808 were quite numerous. JACOB BOWERMAN, a man of great decision of character, settled three miles south of Steeleville and afterward, west of that town. He was remarkably ingenious and could work at almost any trade, even making guns, without previous instruction. As a marksman with the rifle he had no superior. He had four sons, JONATHAN, JESSE, MICHAEL and WILLIAM."

Several forts, or block houses, were erected during the year 1812. One was in the Irish settlement...; another was in Dr. Fisher's settlement; another on the present site of the town of Steeleville; and a fourth at JACOB BOWERMANS."

Heads of families in Township of Springfield (Preston). were:

JONATHAN BOWERMAN
JACOB BOWERMAN
JESSE BOWERMAN
WILLIAM ROBINSON
ENOCH LIVELY
SHADRACK LIVELY."

The next settler in the year 1808 was JACOB POWERMAN. He was a man of marked decision and force of character, and he was possessed of a fertile mechanical genius. He was the pioneer blacksmith of the settlement, and possessed great skill in manipulation of metals. He was an expert gunsmith. He was born 1773 and died in 1847.....

HISTORICAL SKETCHES OF RANDOLPH COUNTY, ILLINOIS by Montague, 1859, p.92/3.

"1808.— In this year, one of the most remarkable pioneers that figured in the county, came and settled about three miles south of Steelesville. That man was JACOB BOWERMAN. Decision of character was a leading trait, and shone out in all his operations. He was a representative man, and filled the position of a leader with marked ability. His ingenuity was unbounded. He was master of almost every trade, and from the fertility of his genius he could manufacture guns, though he never served an apprenticeship to the trade. As a marksman, with the rifle he had no superior. He lived on a farm where he first settled only a short time, then opened the farm on which Archibald Steele lived during life, and afterwards settled upon the farm, on the western side of Steelesville, which is known as the "old Bowerman place." He had four sons — JONATHAN, JESSE, MICHAEL, and WILLIAM — three of whom are yet living — JESSE being dead. JONATHAN resides in Jackson county; MICHAEL lives three miles south of Steelesville; and WILLIAM lives three miles north of the same place."

RANDOLPH COUNTY NOTES by John W. Allen. Copyright 1944. Printed by authority of the State of Ill. Dwight H. Green, Gov. 1944, p.2.

JACOB BOWERMAN.

Jacob Bowerman was emphatically not a "jack at all trades and good at none". If tradition and the meager written records are to be believed, he was a competent gunsmith, blacksmith, cabinetmaker, farmer, builder, cooper, marksman, and community leader. The vicinity of Steel's Mills was fortunate when he came to it in 1808. The "Old Bowerman place" was a well-known landmark for a century.
